

FIDEM-SIEPM Scholarships for the European Diploma in Medieval Studies (DEEM) 2024-2025

The 'Fédération Internationale des Instituts d'Études Médiévales' (FIDEM) and the 'Société Internationale pour l'Étude de la Philosophie Médiévale' (SIEPM) are pleased to offer two scholarships for the Diplôme Européen d'Études Médiévales (DEEM) for the 2024-2025 academic year. The full DEEM programme emphasizes foundational knowledge in Medieval Studies and skills in Medieval Latin, Palaeography, Codicology, Textual Editing, and Digital Scholarly Editing.

The scholarship includes a stipend of 2000 Euros and a tuition waiver. It supports talented students who lack the financial means to participate in the programme.

Please note that the awarding of the scholarship is contingent upon sufficient enrolment in the DEEM programme; a minimum of six participants is required for the programme to take place.

Selection Criteria

Applicants must meet the following criteria:

- meeting the prerequisites for admission to the Diploma (see <https://fidemweb.org/deem-application/>)
- enrolment as in-class students in the complete annual programme (modular and personalised enrolments will not be considered)
- excellent academic records
- genuine financial need.

Applicants must declare their financial situation. Preference is given to students from low-income countries.

Scholarship recipients are selected through a competitive application process.

Application Process

Candidates must fill out the online form at <https://fidemweb.org/application-form-2024-2025/>. In the box at the very bottom, which asks for other relevant information, they must state that they wish to apply for the FIDEM-SIEPM scholarships.

Candidates must add a self-certification of their financial situation. It will be requested by an auto-reply e-mail upon submission of the online application, along with the request of other mandatory documents.

Application Timeline

The deadline for submitting the completed application is December 1st, 2024. Late or incomplete applications will not be accepted.

Applicants will be informed about the outcome of their application approximately two weeks after the deadline.

The scholarship will be paid in two instalments for the duration of the DEEM programme. The first instalment will be disbursed within 30 days of the start of the programme.
